Workshop on International Publishing and the Social Sciences

João Sarmento – University of Minho

Friday, 3 may 2013

From 9 AM to 3 PM,

salles des reunion du rectorat

Target group: postgraduate students and staff from Social Sciences and Humanities

Number: between 20-30 participants

Aims: Provide an overview of the International Publishing Environment and contribute to a better understanding of the steps and difficulties to increase possibilities of publishing

Contents

1. Context of academic publishing
   a. Open Access
2. Why writing for publication?
   a. Publish or perish
   b. Writing for distinct communities
3. Resources and support
4. Non-native speakers
5. Research articles
6. Textual development
7. International Journals
   a. Identifying the right journal
8. Journal Impact Factors
   a. ISI Impact factor rating
   b. Other measures
   c. Citation indexes
9. Submitting an article
10. Moral and ethical standards
11. Comments and revision processes
12. Establishing networks, attending conferences
    a. Conference presentations
    b. Conference organization

This workshop can lead to individual work on specific research in Week III